Low Performing Schools Defined

The State Board of Education shall identify low-performing school on an annual basis.

Low-performing schools are those that receive a school performance grade of D or F and a school growth score of “met expected growth” or “not met expected growth”. (G.S. 115C-105.37)

Within 30 days of the initial identification of a school as low-performing by the State Board (October 6), the superintendent shall submit to the local board of education a preliminary plan for approving both the school performance grade and school growth score, including how the superintendent and other central office administrators will work with the school and monitor the school's progress.

BOE votes on LP school improvement plans

By November 26

Plans submitted via the NCStar platform to DPI (low-performing schools only) for feedback

SIP Items for Review

- Comprehensive plan for each school. This includes assessment of NC Star indicators with 3-5 indicators chosen as priorities for the 2022-2023 school year.
- Goal setting document for each school (resembles more of the “traditional” school improvement plan; includes EOG/EOC specific goals).

Next Steps

Once the school improvement plans are submitted to DPI on or before November 26, members of DPI's District and Regional Support teams will review the plan and provide appropriate recommendations.

The BOE will consider any recommendations made by DPI and, if necessary, schools may have to amend their plans. An additional BOE vote may be required.

The final plan will be displayed on the district website.

Recommendation

Approval of the 2022-2023 School Improvement Plans for Bunn Elementary School, Bunn Middle School and Franklinton Middle School.

Per legislation, plans will be submitted to DPI this week. We will receive feedback on these three plans.
